

Don't SHARE your personal details with random people you don't know. Never use your own name as your gamer tag.

Keep your passwords SAFE. Don't share your location with strangers.

Never MEET up with strangers you have met online.

MANAGE your accounts so that information does not get shared without your permission. Keep accounts PRIVATE.

ASK for help. No one knows everything! Don't feel you're alone.

Don't ACCEPT friend requests, or requests for pictures, or information, from people you don't know.

RESPECT everyone you meet online. Behave as you would in person.

The online world is not always RELIABLE. People online may not be who they say they are, not all information online is true.

TELL an adult if you are uncomfortable, scared or worried by anything you have seen or heard online.

THINK before you post, share or speak online ...
Is this safe?
Is this kind?
Is this appropriate?
